

In Search of Old Maine

A pair of sailors cruise the far reaches of Penobscot Bay looking for traces of the Down East life where lobstermen rub shoulders with stone cutters and charming villages are best visited by boat

